CITY HALL MUST COME DOWN, STATE RULES

Water Superintendent Picked, Council To OK Fire Marshal Backs Up Original Order

Special Meeting Called; Mayor To Name Director

Safety, Service Jobs Will Combine; Water Chief To Get $6,000

City council will convene in special session Tuesday to consider the appointment of a water superintendent and revision of the city service and safety directorships.

The meeting has been called at the request of the new Salem Water Commission in order to rearrange the administrative setup for the water, service and safety departments to become effective May 1.

The Commission, after carefully screening applicants, has selected a superintendent and will formally appoint him when council agrees officially to the salary contemplated, expected to be about $6,000 a year.

The new man, whose identity is being withheld until the appointment is official, is a qualified water specialist, properly licensed and of considerable experience, authorities say.

Mayor Harry Vincent said today that he will recommend the combination of the safety-service directorships into one job and will announce his appointment for the new position, after council goes along Tuesday on the water superintendency.

Therefore, council is expected Tuesday to approve the new water superintendent, appropriate money for the position and also enact legislation combining the service and safety jobs. The salary for the combination job, to be a part-time affair, will be approximately $1,500 a year.

Thus the water department, as of May 1, will be under the complete supervision of the new superintendent who is, in turn, responsible to the three man Water Commission.

T. R. Dreyer, N. A. Pedersen and F. P. Mullins make up the commission recently named by Mayor Vincent.

The safety-service director will have no connection with the water department after the changes are made.

Tax-Cutters Resume Snipping Monday

WASHINGTON, April 22—(IN S)—House tax writers are expected to resume their secret tax-cutting sessions Monday with priority consideration for the important excise levies on amusements and communications.

The Ways and Means Committee has already tentatively carved some 335 million dollars from excise tax revenue in its action on manufacturers' and retailers' taxes. It is now ready to revamp the imposts on amusements, telephone and telegraph charges, liquor, tobacco and other items.

Action on the 20 percent admissions tax, which reaps about 395 million dollars a year, and the 20 percent cabaret tax, which raises an annual 40 million, will probably bring the committee closer to President Truman's goal of a 665 million dollar cut in the so-called "luxury" taxes.

After excise tax surgery, the committee will pass upon the President's recommendations that tax "loopholes" be closed and that corporation income, gift and estate taxes be raised.

Salem On 'Fast Time' Week From Tomorrow

Not tomorrow, but a week from Sunday, Salem will join other eastern Ohio cities in returning to Daylight Saving time.

A city ordinance stipulates that the city automatically go on "fast time" the last Sunday in April of each year and revert to Standard Time the last Sunday in September.

Ohio's "fast time belt" extends as far west as Wooster. Farm folk generally frown upon the time change, but city workers as a rule like it for it gives them an additional hour of sunlight after a day at the office or factory.

Acheson's Plea On ITO Charter Irks GOP

Delay Urged; Ives Questions Sagacity Of Secretary's Move

WASHINGTON, April 22—(AP)—Republicans proposed today that Secretary of State Acheson delay action on the International Trade Organization charter as a goodwill gesture for the bipartisan foreign policy.

The implication was plain in statements by Republican Senators that if Acheson persists in pushing the ITO charter issue in this session of Congress, GOP members will regard that as a sign two-party cooperation doesn't exist.

Their complaints came after Acheson—without consulting Republicans—urged a house committee to speed action on the charter, signed in Havana in 1948. It is aimed at reducing trade barriers and ending international trade wars.

Senator Ives of New York gave the general Republican viewpoint on Acheson's move to a reporter in these words: "I don't think we are going to have any bipartisan policy worthy of the name if that is the kind of tactics the Administration is going to employ."

Members of both parties have urged renewed efforts toward two-party cooperation in international affairs. The most recent statements along that line have come in the Senate debate over a $3,372,450,000 foreign aid bill.

On the question of international trade, Ives said he hasn't made up his mind whether to support or oppose the charter.

Chairman Millikin (Colo.) of the conference of all Republican Senators told reporters there will be "strenuous" Senate opposition to the charter, which requires majority approval of both Houses before it can become effective so far as this country is concerned.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said Republicans expect the issue of tariff reductions to loom large in this year's congressional campaigns. He said he assumed that under the charter the United States will be asked to make many tariff concessions.

Local Artists To Perform In Music Event Monday, Tuesday

Mrs. Eric Silver, talented pianist, and Thomas Crothers, supervisor of music in Salem's public schools, will play a piano duo, "Concerto" for Salem's first annual Music Festival Monday and Tuesday evening in the Salem High School auditorium.

Mrs. Ruth West Spalding of Alliance, formerly of Salem, will be one of the soloists. Homer S. Taylor will be her accompanist. Nancy Bailey will give a violin solo, with her brother, Ben, at the piano.

Miss Dana Rice and Gene Rollins will contribute solo dances. Miss Rice will interpret the "Español Cani" dance, while "Congo Pastoral" will be presented by Mr. Rollins.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rhodes, Jr., and her brother, Dr. Wade McGhee, will appear in a Hill Billy song.

FLOOD DRIVES THOUSANDS FROM HOMES—Flood waters caused by thawing of record winter snows have forced more than 6600 persons to flee their homes in vast areas of eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota. Above, near Almont, N. D., owners have piled belongings on the "roof" of a home still under construction, with only the basement finished. The floating lumber is intended for its completion. Two Czechs Get Death Sentence

Convicted Of Spying For U. S.; 6 Get Life

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 22—(AP)—A state court sentenced two Czechs to death on charges of high treason and spying for the United States here today, the official Czech news agency said.

Another of the six co-defendants in the trial was sentenced to life imprisonment. The remaining three received jail terms ranging from 8 to 25 years.

During the trial four former officials of the U. S. embassy in Prague were named as having directed the six in espionage activities. The defendants reportedly pleaded guilty to the charges and expressed regret for their deeds.

Those sentenced to death, the agency said, were Maj. Janomir Nechansky, 34-year-old British-trained wartime parachutist, and Veleoslav Wahl, 28-year-old law student. They had been named chief defendants in the four-day trial.

Both Nechansky and Wahl were ordered hanged. Nechansky also was ordered deprived of his military rank and all military honors.

The other sentences were: Milos Sprysl, 20, bookkeeper—life imprisonment.

Jiri Dohnalek, 43, lawyer—20 years.

Miss Zdenka Vackova, 25, office clerk—8 years.

Karel Loris, 51, glass-factory manager—25 years.

All the defendants, except Miss Vackova, were fined 50,000 crowns ($1,000) and deprived of their citizen's rights. Miss Vackova was fined 20,000 crowns ($400). The property of all the defendants was ordered confiscated.

The Czechs were arrested last fall when the Communist-led government announced it had smashed an espionage ring led by officials of the American embassy.

Even Cost Of Dying Is Rising These Days

CLEVELAND, April 22—(AP)—Even funerals are costing more these days.

W. M. Krieger of Chicago, managing director of the National Selected Morticians, said the average cost of a funeral last year was $421. This is 38 per cent more than in 1940.

Krieger presided at a panel discussion yesterday by members of the organization from Ohio and West Virginia.

Senator Urges U. S. Betting Ban

Capehart Feels Legal Betting Should End

WASHINGTON, April 22—(AP)—Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) said today a nation-wide ban on legalized betting at race tracks would wipe out most of the vast gambling rings in the United States.

He said unlawful bookmaking is based on the legalized pari-mutuel wagering permitted in many states.

"If you wipe out pari-mutuel betting," he told a reporter, "then you eliminate the whole thing." But the Senator said he was not ready to make a formal move against legalized gambling.

Capehart spoke out after city and state officials had painted a picture of organized gambling interests too big and too powerful for them to control with out government help.

The officials testified yesterday before a Senate commerce subcommittee studying a bill designed to ban the sending of gambling information across state lines.

The subcommittee's hearings are being held against a background of mounting congressional sentiment for action against the nation's organized crime syndicates.

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he plans to ask the Senate, next week if possible, to approve a resolution calling for a $150,000 crime investigation on a broader scale than the commerce group's inquiry.

Among the names brought out in the hearing was that of Edward J. McBride of Cleveland, O., said to control the Continental Press Service supplying race information throughout the country.

City Groups To Make Memorial Day Plans

Representatives of all patriotic organizations in the city will meet at 7:30 p. m. next Friday in G.A.R. hall to make preliminary plans for Salem's Memorial Day observance Tuesday, May 30.

Philip Triem Camp, Sons of Union Veterans, has sponsored the celebration here since the G.A.R. post was dissolved following the death of the Civil War veterans.

Chrysler Strike Talks Stymied

Mediators May Call Off Sessions

DETROIT, April 22—(AP)—Federal mediators reported a "hopeless deadlock" in the 88-day-old Chrysler strike early today and threatened to call off peace talks for a while.

Arthur C. Viat, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the bleak report after a long bargaining session broke up at 1 a. m.

It put a damper on latest hopes for a quick return to the job of 89,000 Chrysler workers, whose strike already is the second longest in auto industry. Its cost is estimated now at a billion and a quarter dollars.

The deadlock developed over a series of non-economic contract matters after a general agreement had been reached in the pension dispute from which the strike stemmed. Mediators had hoped for a weekend settlement.

Viat said another meeting would be held at 2 p. m. today. And unless the company or the CIO United Auto Workers Union is prepared to give ground at that time, he said, mediators will call for an indefinite "cooling off" period of perhaps several days.

Viat said such non-economic contract issues as grievance procedure, union security and seniority rules produced the deadlock.

Chrysler and the UAW have been in agreement at least in principle for several days over the financing of $100-a-month pensions, company-paid except for the part covered by federal social security.

Final agreement on this and other issues has been held up, however, pending settlement of numerous contract matters.

Salem D. A. V. Post Receives Charter

The new Salem Disabled American Veterans chapter 122 received its charter in formal ceremonies last night at the Memorial building when 80 local and visiting D. A. V.'s participated in the official recognition of the post.

State Commander William Sweeney of Cleveland presided at the installation of the post's first officers: Commander, Fred Allenbaugh; senior vice commander, Forrest Coy; junior vice commander, Earl Moore; adjutant, Paul Shirey; chaplain, George McIntyre and officer of the day, Steve Dimko.

James Trott of Cleveland, national service officer, Joe Smith, state junior vice commander and John Anderson, district commander, both of Alliance, also attended. The East Liverpool post sent 30 members to the event. Massillon, Youngstown and Alliance posts also were represented.

Soviet Blasts Seen Sham For Berlin Crisis

U. S. Convinced Reds Set On Ousting West From Germany

WASHINGTON, April 22—(UP)—High U. S. officials were convinced today that Soviet power plays in Eastern Europe are designed to distract the West's attention from its Number 1 target—Berlin.

They said they believe that Communist control of the German capital is still the Kremlin's main objective in current cold war maneuvers.

While Secretary of State, Dean Acheson sees no danger of a shooting war in the immediate future, some of his aides fear that an all-out Soviet drive for Berlin might provoke incidents even more serious than the recent loss of a U. S. Navy plane and its 10-man crew in a brush with Soviet fighters over the Baltic.

These officials said they believe there is danger that Russia may reinstitute the blockade of Berlin and, perhaps, seek to disrupt efforts to revive the Allied airlift.

They reported that there are signs that Communists may step up their activities soon in Western Germany, timed perhaps to coincide with a new Russian move to oust the three Western powers from Berlin.

"The Russians regard the presence of the West in Berlin as a fester in the body of the Soviet sphere of Europe and they are determined to cut it out as soon as possible," one diplomat said.

Sec. Acheson analyzed the current series of Soviet maneuvers from the Baltic to the Dardanelles at a press conference yesterday. He said they added up to a serious situation, but that they did not appear to pose any threat of an immediate war. He emphasized, however, that they clearly showed that Soviet "peace" propaganda of recent months was not sincere.

The Secretary criticized Moscow for sticking to its "fictitious allegations" that an American B-29 flew over Latvia and fired on Soviet planes despite U. S. statements that the only American plane in the Baltic area on the date in question was the missing unarmed Navy Privateer.

In its note yesterday, the Soviet government brushed off as "clearly absurd" U. S. demands for reparations and an apology. It said it would not accept the Americans claims even "for examination."

2 Hit-Skip Mishaps Reported To Police

Three accidents, two of them hit-skip, were reported to police during the past 24 hours. No one was injured.

Don Bradley, an employee at the Meissner service station at 885 W. State st., told police of one mishap occurring at 12 midnight Friday.

A car, he said, came south on Route 14 at a high rate of speed, made a fast left turn at the intersection of W. State st., skidded over the curb, knocked out a cement block, hit a telephone pole and continued on its way. He said the car bore license number L-523-U.

In another hit-skip mishap, Margaret Hall of Lisbon told police a truck cut in front of her car on W. State st. at 2 p. m. Friday, striking and damaging the left front fender of the auto. It did not stop after the collision.

She said the truck had an "Arbaugh" sign on the back end. A truck operated by William H. Moore of R. D. 4, Lisbon, backed from an alley on the west side of S. Broadway at 3:10 p. m. Friday, colliding with a car driven by Cleta Martig of R. D. 1, Salem. The Martig car was backing from an east side parking space.

Fire Marshal Backs Up Original Order

Salem's old City Hall on downtown E. State st. apparently will be torn down.

This was learned today when State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan informed city council that the original tear-down order must be complied with.

In a letter addressed to Councilman Michael Schuller, chairman of the safety committee, Fire Marshal Callan said there has been no change from the first condemnation order and that the city is expected to raze the structure "within a reasonable time."

"Order No. 74210 is in full force and effect, as far as the state fire marshal's office is concerned," he said.

The order to which Marshal Callan refers is the one issued October 29, 1941, by Ray R. Gill, then state fire marshal, and served on Mayor Norman Phillips, who was in office at that time.

At that time the city was instructed to tear down the City Hall and have all rubbish and debris removed from the premises. A time limit of 30 days was affixed to the order, but the state showed leniency in this respect when city officials started studying ways and means of getting a new municipal building erected.

The new City Hall is now under construction at the southwest corner of South Broadway and E. Pershing st., the voters having approved a $160,000 bond issue for the new building.

In conversation with Councilman Schuller, Fire Marshal Callan declared that the more-than-century-old hall must come down. The building, he pointed out, is worse than it ever was and he forwarded to council as a reminder a copy of the original tear-down order.

The report, in describing the condition of the building, reads: "...the floors of this building are sagging; the east and west sides are bulging; the building is out of plumb; the frame part is rotting away; the rafters, eaves, electric wiring, heating apparatus and four of the chimneys are in very poor state of repair; and by reason thereof, said building is especially liable to fire and a menace to surrounding property."

And in conclusion, "therefore by reason of the premises and pursuant to the authority vested in me by virtue of my office under Sections 834 to 837 inclusive of the General Code of Ohio, you are hereby ordered within 30 days from date of service of this order to tear down the above mentioned building. Under penalty of law you are advised to nowise omit complying with this order."

Almost simultaneously this week, Robert Skipton, state superintendent of factories and buildings, reminded city council that the old hall cannot be occupied.

The state fire marshal's action dims the hopes of the Salem Historical Society to save the old City Hall for sentimental reasons.

The historical group recently advocated preservation of the old building as a state museum, but State Fire Marshal Callan, when advised of the proposal, said the only way he would consent to this would be to have the hall torn down completely and then rebuilt. The cost of this probably would be prohibitive, he added.

One councilman, who asked not to be named, said it would probably cost at least $50,000 to repair the old hall.

The new municipal building on South Broadway will provide quarters for the fire and police departments, waterworks office, the mayor's office and offices of other city heads. The modern brick structure is being built by the Campbell Construction Co. of Warren.

The Salem Garden Club was organized April 23, 1931, with Mrs. Bunn as its first president. The first year of the organization, 2,000 of the shrubs were planted in observance of Mother's Day, at the suggestion of Mrs. John Smeltz, vice president.

Churches, schools and clubs cooperated with the women in selling the forsythia bushes.

Grandma Bunn, as she is affectionately called by her friends, will mark her 94th birthday anniversary Wednesday. It has been suggested to the clubs that the planting of bushes this year be in celebration of her natal day.

Salem Girl Scouts are distributing the plants for the Garden Club, and they will be available next week. Persons desiring plants may contact a Girl Scout. Plants also will be distributed by the Jaycees and at the Operation SPIC office, E. State st., the first of May.

The plants are reasonably priced.

Two drivers were arrested as the result of an accident at 12:05 p. m. Thursday on Route 62, a mile north of Canfield.

State patrolmen said the car driven by James R. Myers, 27, of Lima collided with the truck-trailer driven by Kenneth R. Plant, 23, of R. D. 2, Beloit. Myers was passing Plant as the latter swung out to pass another car at the intersection.

Both drivers were cited before Justice of the Peace H. A. Walker of Canfield for driving left of center at an intersection and were each fined $5 and costs.

Confident Living

How To Pray About A Problem

I HAVE devoted a great deal of space in these columns to advising my readers to pray for solutions to their problems. And some of them have written to me asking for specific techniques of prayer.

It is important, first of all, to believe that it is possible to pray one's self through any problem. I do not mean to minimize the importance of human intelligence in any undertaking but I think that it is easy to make the mistake of thinking of prayer as something merely pious. It is widely recognized that prayer is a skill, that it is an actual power. A great modern scientist, Dr. Alexis Carrel, has written, "Prayer is not only worship, it is an invisible emanation of man's spirit, the most powerful form of energy that can be generated."

Dr. Carrel goes on to point out: "The influence of prayer on the human mind and body is as demonstrable as that of secret glands. As a physician I have seen men, after all other therapy has failed, lifted out of disease and melancholy by the supreme effort of prayer. It is the only power in the world that seems to overcome the so-called laws of nature. Prayer may not restore the dead child to life or bring relief from physical pain, but prayer, like radiance, is a source of luminous self-generating energy."

I cite these remarks by a distinguished man of science to show that prayer is not something old-fashioned and outdated but instead the greatest form of energy which a human being can employ. And there are three simple ways in which you can utilize this tremendous power to solve your problems.

THE FIRST of these is one I did not discover until late in life, a formula by which the most astonishing results can be accomplished. You will find reference to it in the eighteenth chapter of Matthew, in the nineteenth and twentieth verses where it says: "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

Why it should be that two people in agreeing fellowship can pray together about a problem and get great results, I cannot explain. I can simply assert and demonstrate that this formula of prayer works most successfully. I have used it in hundreds of cases.

I remember one case where a man came to me about a problem and I explained this technique. He did not seem very much impressed at the time, but a few days later he telephoned me and said, "About my problem, it doesn't say anything in the Bible, does it, about whether we can pray together over the telephone?"

"No," I said. "There were no telephones when the Bible was written, but it is true that you and I do not have to be in physical proximity to use this technique if we are of a common mind."

"Well," he replied, "let's pray about my problem over the phone."

We prayed and then I told him, "Now you go about your business. I will continue to pray for you."

has come down through history as an example of great victories won by an unyielding faith in God and a refusal to accept the idea that something could not be done. Make the idea of the impossible a vanishing concept to you also, believe that all things are possible.

Use these three simple steps. (1) Find fellowship and partnership in your prayers. (2) Always be willing to accept God's answer as the right answer. (3) Cast negativity out of your mind and pray with faith. If you do this, experience has taught us that you can find a solution to any problem through prayer. It Will Hurt

THE rent control dilemma, it now appears, will be handled in 1950 by the same treatment used since the end of World War II.

This is the treatment which calls for amputating this wartime control one inch at a time. It is the classical technique of cutting off the pup's tail in pieces.

The 1950 plan apparently is to extend rent control another six months, with somewhat lighter restrictions than the present law provides. The Truman administration, with its eye as usual on the next elections, will ask for a full year but settle for half, which will carry it through the congressional elections.

The issue then can be reopened in the 82nd Congress, if it seems expedient. Not too much blame can be laid on Congressmen for being skittish about rent control. It never has been and is not now an open-and-shut issue. The fact is that the government itself enforced a policy of wartime and postwar restrictions which produced an acute shortage of housing; it owed some protection to renters. But it owed no protection to people who merely wanted to take advantage of owners.

But the further fact is that rent control as a wartime practice cannot be amputated from federal policy without pain. Local decontrol has taken much of the horror out of the prospect of eventual abandonment of rent control as a public policy—but there always will be a few who will want to wait another six months or another year for the final slash of the knife.

It's Never That Simple

THE moral and ethical pressures being brought against Dr. Herman N. Sander by professional organizations and boards are complications which laymen did not expect. They assumed his acquittal on the charge of murder leveled against him for his impulse to relieve a patient of agony which already has caused her death would be the end of the matter.

But it's never that simple when morals and ethics are concerned. Those who think of themselves, either properly or improperly, as trustees of codes of behavior set up outside the law must have satisfaction too. If they choose to do so, they can wreck Dr. Sander's professional career. It is apparent that some of them have chosen to make certain he will not be able to pursue it without being handicapped by the stigma of their censure.

This will strike a good many laymen as a gross injustice to Dr. Sander. But it must be remembered that he undoubtedly was prepared in his own mind for complications that would grow out of his trouble with the law. He belongs to a profession which exercises the right to discipline its members.

Can Economy Be Popular?

IT GOES without saying that if each and every attempt to save money in the federal government is resisted by taxpayers themselves no politician is likely to risk his neck by trying to save money.

Every dollar saved in federal budgets is a dollar that someone doesn't get. Someone, therefore, is going to be hurt. The fact the saved dollar also is a dollar that someone doesn't have to pay in taxes is secondary.

When Defense Secretary Johnson cut back on defense spending there was an angry outcry that took the heart out of a lot of would-be savers in Washington. Seventeen years ago a similar outcry against the economy program promised by Franklin D. Roosevelt in his presidential campaign converted him from a would-be saver into a cynic who once defied another would-be saver to show where a single dollar of federal expense could be saved.

The same kind of cynicism has gained many converts since then. Many of the same Americans who complain about heavy taxation and are honestly worried about a government which can't pay its own way even in good times are predicting that the cutback ordered in postal service never will go into effect. They say it's nothing but a ruse to get a larger appropriation because the people won't stand for any curtailment of postal service.

They may be right on both counts. It may be impossible for the Postoffice Department to save money. The Postmaster General's cutback order may be cynical politics, to force Congress to appropriate more money for his department. But there is more to it than that. Congressmen as a whole doubt that the public will stand for economy. They suspect that economy is bad politics because it's a time-proven rule that the way to get elected is to vote for all appropriation bills and against all tax bills. They are watching the outcome of the Postoffice Department cutback order with keen interest. If the public doesn't really want to save money, why should any politician risk his neck by talking about it any more? Why not keep right on spending and spending and electing and electing?

Some Big Ones That Got Away

THERE are reminders in the testimony in John Maragon's trial on perjury charges that not all the people who try to buy their way into favor in Washington make smart investments. Some who tried to deal through Maragon wasted their money. The government employees responsible for making the big decision couldn't be corrupted.

All but a few public employees are honest. Unfortunately, the few got so much notoriety they give the others a black eye. It's unfair, and it's discouraging to the honest employees. They're aware of something the public—or the honest majority of the public—never thinks about.

They never lack opportunities to sell out. Whether they're little, big or in between, there's always someone willing to buy whatever favor, nod, or wink they might have for sale. America's problem isn't public employees.

It's the unrelenting pressure on public employees of corruption in the population at large. It is apparently upright citizens who patronize the practitioners of corruption and give them money with which they bid for favor and advantage. The corruption of a public official is a symptom, not a cause. John Maragon did his best to corrupt certain federal employees but some preferred to be incorruptible. That's more than can be said of Maragon and his clients.

Change Of Face

By Hal Boyle

THE PIONEER mother of 1950 travels westward in a covered wagon, 15,000 feet above the desert signs. And she has a martini with her Canasta game—if she wants one.

And 1950's pioneering pappy ain't worrying about whether the Indians crave his scalp or just want to sell him a gen-ooo-ine 100 per cent American blanket, homespun in a Portland factory. He's busy nipping on a highball, bored boredom attack him.

No sir, Mammy and Pappy just can't be annoyed now with the trifles that disturbed Great Grandpa and Great Grandma on the old trek West—things like Buffalo traffic jams, water shortages, and painted native real estate agents selling housing site for beads.

Yep, it's all changed. There are real horrors now—for example, the airplane may run out of ice. That means the old folks will have to drink their "Bourbon and ditch" which is Montana lingo for whiskey and plain ditchwater—at room temperature.

So it has always been in man's long voyage west—one hardship after the other.

FLYING OUT for a first look at the great and growing Northwest, however, it is hard to escape a feeling of unreality. It sure has changed.

Maybe I just read too much about the troubles of Lewis and Clark, and the bouts the boys in buckskin used to have with the grizzly bears. But the only grizzly thing left out there now is a 3 per cent state sales tax.

My vehicle from New York was a skyborne twenty-mule team train, one of the new 75-passenger strato-cruisers.

They have been put into domestic service for the first time by Northwest airlines, which also has pioneered in a new post-prohibition experiment—the introduction of a cocktail lounge in the air over American soil.

All airlines, I believe, now peddle alcoholic beverages on their overseas flights, but northwest is the first to test the freedom of the American ozone in this manner. But at a buck per belt of scotch anointed with soda, it is free only in a rarefied sense.

The test began last November amid considerable qualms within the industry. It was felt that there would be an immediate and violent objection on the part of people who think the demon rum has caused enough trouble at ground level without giving him wings.

"But so far we have had only one letter of complaint, and that was anonymous," said a spokesman for the airlines. "And we've never had to put a passenger off because he got out of hand."

DRINKING AMONG the cumulus clouds would be more deadly than at sea level—two drinks would have the normal impact of four—except for the fact that the big planes are pressurized.

"The main reason we started it was not to make money, but to relieve the tedium of long voyages," said the airlines man. "And we have found the average passenger is a two-drink customer."

Bartending in the sky has its problems. For one thing the airline hasn't yet been able to get a liquor permit from New York or Illinois. And the courts have held that states can control the sale of alcohol between their boundaries and heaven—straight up. But all other states on the northwest route have made an adjustment.

"We average out our sales and give each state an equal tax out," the airlines spokesman explained. "That may not be completely fair, but it is hard to keep track of state boundaries when you're flying."

They settled the old West a hundred years too soon.

There is no problem today—they've got flying waterholes. (AP News Features)

Urban Congestion Is A Problem

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON. As has been pointed out by many urban experts, most measures designed to relieve this human congestion only make it worse. Anything that makes it easier to get out of the city's center also makes it easier to get in.

The only real cure is to develop competing magnets of attraction well removed from the crowded downtown section. But these probably ought to be planned on a much more drastic scale than most cities are contemplating seriously today.

NEARLY all the biggest cities have long had sub-centers of business and industrial activity. In recent years suburban areas have developed beyond mere dormitories into more balanced communities, with shops, theaters and similar facilities on a more ambitious footing than formerly.

Yet few of these are powerful enough attractions to hold residents of the area out of the city's heart the way they should. Too many people still make the long, wearying trip to town for work or pleasure.

If this congestion is not to choke our cities to death, they must set about developing satellite areas—perhaps separated from built-up sectors by belts of green country—that are in most ways self-sufficient.

This means more factories in the outlying regions, with workers' homes close by. Long commuting hours are a colossal waste. It means shops and recreational facilities truly rivaling those downtown. For example, road companies of stage dramas might make the rounds of satellite centers before embarking on cross-country tours.

A FAMOUS and successful city planner once scoffed at men who urged drastic revamping of our cities. He considered such men starchy-eyed and told them his city was "too tough for 'em."

It looks now like the shoe is on the other foot. His city, and every other large metropolis, is becoming too tough for the planners with limited vision. These centers aren't yielding to the modest plans now being executed. They're getting worse.

There's urgency in this problem. More is at stake than mere human discomfort, economic waste, peace of mind. Our lives are involved. The atom bomb has outmoded these huge urban clusters of people and buildings and transportation facilities. Civilian defense specialists are calling for sweeping decentralization of industry and business in the simple interest of self-preservation.

Whether it is to be peace or war, we must make a real start at breaking up present concentrations. They have long since reached the point of diminishing human returns.

Plan No. 12

By JAMES MARLOW

Rough Weather Ahead For Truman Proposal

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S Plan No. 12 is running into rough weather.

This is one of 21 plans Mr. Truman sent to Congress several weeks ago for reorganizing parts of the government.

No. 12 would wipe out the powers of Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board and give them to the board.

Denham and the four-man board haven't been getting along well. That's putting it gently.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, if a union or employer wants to complain the other is unfair, Denham is the man to go to.

Under the powers given him by T-H Denham alone decides whether to listen to that complaint or throw it out.

If he decided to throw it out, the board can't do anything. If he thinks it's all right, he prosecutes it before the board which then can judge.

SINCE T-H was passed two years ago and Denham was given the general counsel's job, there's been a growing feud between him and the board.

This was a strange situation. Denham and the board are both being paid to see that unions and employers live up to T-H.

Both are supposed to be fair and impartial. But Denham broke the feud wide open in a Jan. 13 speech accusing the board of being pro-labor.

Everyone here wondered where this explosion would lead. It led right to Plan No. 12 which Mr. Truman handed Congress on March 13, two months later.

Under this plan Denham's job—general counsel—would remain but his powers would be given to the board. That would finish off Denham.

Denham strongly opposed the idea. So did the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers. So did Senator Taft, Ohio Republican and one of the authors of T-H. He's leading the fight against Plan No. 12.

But, just as strongly, the chairman of the board, Paul Herzog, was all for the plan.

He said the present divided responsibility has caused friction within the NLRB and confusion among management and labor.

(Taft said transferring Denham's powers to the board would make Herzog the "most powerful labor czar" in America.)

LABOR UNIONS also backed the plan, accusing Denham of being unfair to labor. This was a pretty kettle of fish or something.

Now the plan will become effective on May 24 unless a constitutional majority of the house or senate—just one branch is enough—vote against it.

Ordinarily, a vote in house or senate on any bill is by a simple majority of those present at voting time.

But a constitutional majority is something else in either house. For instance, a constitutional majority of the 96 senators would be 49.

So a constitutional majority for or against anything—is always harder to get than a simple majority.

The senate expenditures committee took Plan No. 12 under its wing to examine it and hear some arguments about it.

This week the members of the committee had a vote to see how they felt about it. The vote was 9 against it, 4 for it.

This wasn't any final vote. Like any other vote by a committee before some measure goes up to the full senate for action, it was advisory.

Yet, the full senate pretty often follows the views of its committees.

Looking Ahead

By GEORGE S. BENSON

IF by some miracle out of a Thousand And One Nights, the genie of Aladdin's fabulous lamp were to appear before me and grant one wish—and one only—I think I should wish that the financing of government be removed from the realm of expedient politics for at least the next 10 years.

It would be the greatest blessing that could come to the 150,000,000 people of America in these crucial times. But Aladdin's Lamp is merely a beautiful fairy tale. And big spending politicians are a bold reality, as yet unbridled.

It's doubtful that there are more than a handful of people outside Washington who know the full facts about the spending program being persistently pressed on Congress by the executive department. To get the facts and correlate them would require a considerable staff of specialists. And to present the findings in an objective manner, justifying public acceptance, would require nonpartisan handling. Fortunately, such a study has been made and such an objective report has been presented—by the staff of the Senate's own Committee on Executive Department Expenditures.

The facts revealed are enough to shock every free and independent person in the country. If the Congress should enact the 15 new major programs being urged by the President, the aggregate annual cost within the next five years would exceed $25 billion. The Committee staff added this figure to the requested regular budget of $40-plus billion and got $65-plus billion, or about 30 per cent of the earnings of all the people in the U. S. A.

Some of the costliest new items being urged are: national health insurance, $7 billion a year; social security expansion, costing $6 billion; housing and public works, $1.4 billion; the Brannan farm program, $6 billion; aid to education, $560 million (to be very rapidly expanded), etc. The total new $25 billion is recommended in spite of the fact that the executive department is already deficit spending to the tune of $5 or $6 billion a year, and the national debt has climbed beyond the quarter trillion dollar mark ($256 billion).

A report on the Committee's findings was made to the Senate by Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). The Committee's study of the new program costs and the present budget showed, he said, "that to support such expenditures on a pay-as-you-go basis will impose a tax burden of $433 annually for every man, woman and child in America. This, added to the amount of taxes already levied for State, County and Municipal governments will make the annual tax obligation of the American people more than 40 cents out of every dollar they earn."

"So far as I know," said Sen. McClellan, "only one other nation today, among the free peoples of the world, have a tax obligation in comparison, and that is England—and England, as we all know, now has an austerity standard of living which we, by gratuities of a billion dollars a year, are helping her to support. The prospects of our traveling the road that England has taken are appalling."

The executive department has just recommended costly new increases in unemployment compensation payments (to $120 monthly) and a revision making it possible for idle workers to draw the payments six months out of the year. One commentator who reported the news from Washington said political observers considered the recommendations as a gesture "for making political capital for this year's Congressional elections." But I think we'd better take it a lot more seriously than that.

Certainly there can be no question about the fact that too much government spending, at all levels of government, is based on a prime consideration of political expediency. To heap new spending program on top of the present staggering federal budget is outrageously unsound. Though there isn't any Aladdin's Lamp, if the public actually becomes awakened to the seriousness of this they will put a stop to it.

I don't know just how much we're spending to support the price of peanuts but it can be taken for granted that it isn't peanuts.

But "the economic outlook for the next six months is good" (Council of Economic Advisers) except that "farmers may lose 12 billion this year" (Department of Agriculture).

Christian clergymen in Japan, both ordained and unordained, totaled 6,129 as of June 30, 1949.

Russia-Mao Reveal New Trade Agreement

MOSCOW, April 22 — (AP)—Russia and the Chinese People's Republic (the Communist government) have entered into a broad-scale trade arrangement, it was announced today.

The Soviet Union will exchange equipment for raw materials from China under terms of an accord signed Wednesday in Moscow. This is the first trade agreement to be announced between the two governments.

The accord calls for:

1. A general trade agreement.
2. Agreement on mutual trade for 1950.
3. A protocol fixing the equipment and materials quotas which China will receive from 1950 to 1952 inclusive under terms of the 30-year treaty of friendship, alliance, and mutual assistance signed here with Mao Tse-Tung on Feb. 14.

The announcement did not give details of the kind of equipment the Soviet Union would send to China, nor of what materials China would send the Soviet Union in return.

It is presumed in foreign circles that the Soviets will be sending, among other things, machinery, railway equipment, motors and hydraulic and electrical equipment.

Feather-Bedding Scheme of Firemen's Union To Put An Additional Fireman On Diesel Locomotives Has Been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact-Finding Boards Appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman Have Said These Demands Were "Devoid of Merit" and They Were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's Leaders Seek To Paralyze Railroad Transportation to Compel the Railroads to Employ a Wholly Unnecessary Additional Fireman To Ride On Diesel Locomotives.

FEATHER BEDDING!

Leaders of the firemen's union have called a nation-wide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26th. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a presidential fact-finding board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on Diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second board reported to President Truman that "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman . . . upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency or economy of operation."

SAFETY RECORD OF DIESELS IS OUTSTANDINGLY GOOD

Although the railroads accepted the board's findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety reasons." Here's what the board had to say on that point:

"THE SAFETY AND ON-TIME PERFORMANCE OF DIESEL ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES OPERATED UNDER CURRENT RULES HAVE BEEN NOTABLY GOOD"

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful, make-work demands.

"SAFETY RECORD OF DIESELS IS OUTSTANDINGLY GOOD..."

(Presidential Fact-Finding Board's Report)
Read these excerpts from official reports of presidential fact-finding boards:

"The safety record of diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results.

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that diesel electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation . . ."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's fact-finding board, which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

90 Attend District Workshop Held Here By Church Women

THE WORKSHOP HELD FRIDAY afternoon in the Presbyterian Church for women from churches in Salem, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Winona, Alliance and Canton was significant of the "Unity of Christians" discussed by the speaker, Mrs. J. D. Wyker.

Mrs. Wyker, president of the Ohio Council of Church Women, praised the cooperation of the more than 90 women gathered here as a part of the Northeast Region of the Ohio Council of Church Women.

She recalled that it was the early women of the Biblical days who were told "To tell the gospel of Jesus" and it was at the birth of Jesus that the status of women was advanced in the scheme of things.

The speaker declared that if our lives are to count, as they must, we must work together in such workshops, discussing mutual concerns and acquainting the women, and men too, with the work of the churches. "Each of us has a part in God's eternal plan," Mrs. Wyker said.

Among the significant things she said were: "Don't lose faith in our government; strive for good government. Stand together in attacks on the Christian faith and say as E. Stanley Jones said, 'I am not a communist, I am not a socialist, I am a Christian.'

"A divided church is weak; there is power in unity; Truth lives; Along with prayer we ourselves have to DO something; profess our faith, be 'card-carrying Christians'."

Mrs. Harry E. Smoyer, vice president of the Northeast Region of the Ohio Council of Church Women, and Mrs. Wyker, were in charge of the workshop when the ecumenical (world church) register was discussed.

Announcement was made of the World Fellowship Day, Friday, May 5, to be observed here in the Methodist Church. Dr. Ching Shing Lu, assistant house physician at Salem City Hospital, will speak. The theme of the day, "Our Daily Bread," will be discussed by Mrs. Thomas Mercer.

Mrs. W. D. Edgerton, president of the Lisbon Council of Church

Women, and Mrs. Springer of East Liverpool presided at the tea table at the fellowship hour following the meeting. The green and yellow of spring was carried out in the daffodils and greenery which filled the epergne on the table.

The tea was arranged by the Salem Council of Church Women, which Mrs. Wyker commended for its activity. Mrs. Maurice Sadler and Mrs. Orien Naragon were the representative hostesses of the council.

High School Dance Highly Successful

THE HIGH SCHOOL Association "Jungle Dance" party last night in the school gymnasium was acclaimed the outstanding social event of the school year as hundreds of youths packed the extensively decorated gym to enjoy a full evening of dancing and entertainment.

At intermission school performers entertained the large audience. The "Tarzan family" was represented by Tom Judge, Dana Rice and Ray Whinnery. Ford Joseph was billed as Gargantua, and Fred Bischel appeared as his companion, Cheta.

Bob Hill caught the mood by singing "Bamboo" and a "native" quartet rendered "Civilization." In the quartet were Larry Vasilevich, Jim Tausch, Mark Miller and Wayne Darling. Make-up was by JoAnn Conser and Helen Schuller. Bob Dickey was a more than adequate "emcee."

Officers of the association are: President, Victor Lake; vice president, Janet Keister, and secretary, Janet Vincent. Mrs. Helen Mulbach is the club advisor.

Fireman Works In Each Tilt

Detroit Stays On Top Undeclared In Three

By JOE REICHLER
"Yeah, but I got Joe Page!" That has been Casey Stengel's stock reply in nearly every discussion concerning the relative merits of his New York Yankees and the power-laden Boston Red Sox.

More than once during the recent spring training grind the Yankee manager was reminded that the Red Sox owned the greatest hitters in Ted Williams and Vern Stephens and the best pitchers in Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder. To all this, the grizzled Stengel would reply:

"Yeah, but I got Joe Page!" This statement becomes more significant every day as the American League pennant race swings into the close of the opening week.

To date, the Yankees have played four games. They've won three and lost one. Page, the brilliant relief artist, has been summoned to relieve faltering mates in three of them. The Yankees won all three. Page saved two for other hurlers and received credit for the other.

Page relieved starter Tommy Byrne in the top of the seventh in the midst of a Washington rally that produced five runs and gave the Nats a 7-7 deadlock. He yielded a run-producing fly and a single that tied the score. But with the potential winning runs on the bases, Page settled down to retire Sam Dente for the third out, then set back the ensuing six men in succession to gain his first triumph. A seventh inning home run by Joe DiMaggio with a mate aboard off Mickey Harris shattered the 7-7 tie.

A HOME crowd of 44,642 watched the unbeaten Detroit Tigers register their third straight victory by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 4-1. The only other unbeaten American League team is St. Louis, winner of its first two games. The Browns and Cleveland were idle yesterday.

Maurice McDermott, 21-year-old lefthander, gave Manager McCarthy a swell present on his 63rd birthday when he pitched the Red Sox to an easy 8-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

A grand slam home run by Catcher Roy Campanella and superb clutch pitching by Preacher Roe helped Brooklyn whip the New York Giants, 8-1, in the Dodgers' home opener.

The Chicago Cubs turned the tables on an old nemesis when Bob Bush outpitched Harry Brecheen to give the Cubs a 2-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Ralph Kiner hit his first home run for Pittsburgh, but the majors' home run king had to play second fiddle to teammate Wally Westlake. The muscular outfielder hammered two homers and a single to drive in six runs and lead the Pirates to a 7-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

A thunderstorm ended the Philadelphia-Boston game in a 2-2 tie after the Phillies had failed to score in the top of the eighth inning.

Softball Rosters Due By May 7

Another discussion-filled managers' softball meeting was held Friday night in the Memorial building, with only a few real decisions reached. Some of the leagues' pressing problems were taken under advisement until another session next week.

The group was told by League Manager Joe Kelley and Commissioners Ray Reasbeck and Jim Primm that players who performed last season for the Igloo, Jaycees, Democrats, Parkers, Sweeties and Mullins are now property of the board of commissioners. Their services may be petitioned for by active teams.

The players from the old Dines and Salem China teams, which are being transferred intact to Mullins and The Hub, need not play for those teams, the commissioners revealed. If they are not satisfied, they may petition the board until May 1st for transfer to another team.

No action was taken Friday on the difficult "draft" problem between Class A and Class AA. Kelley said the league's medical fund has been almost depleted and that no effort will be made to restore it.

He said rosters of teams must be in his hands by May 7, such rosters to include no more than 14 players and a manager. He also announced that games will be played at both West End and Centennial parks this season.

Don E. Beattie was appointed league secretary for the season.

Mansfield Relays Finish Up Today

MANFIELD, O., April 22 (AP)—The men will be separated from the boys in the 19th Mansfield High school relays today.

Preliminaries in eight events and finals in 17 are slated for the day's program for 889 athletes from 56 schools.

Cleveland Collinwood—winner of yesterday's lone event, the four-mile relay—led the pack as the day's events began rolling, but the fans looked for that margin to be destroyed before the day was done.

Mansfield's Tigers, the host team, is favored to retain its team title, even though the Collinwood lads edged Mansfield for the four-mile baton-passing event yesterday.

Mansfield finished 100 yards behind the flying heels of a senior and three juniors from the Cleveland school.

Senior Herb Allichin had tough going the first leg of the long relay and the starter for Mt. Lebanon, Pa., set the pace. Then, juniors Dick Wiley, Tom Skerl and Bob Ishee took over and quickly began piling up a margin.

Mansfield was second, Cleveland West Tech third, Mt. Lebanon fourth, and Cincinnati Central Vocational fifth.

Jet Tests May Explain Quakes

Dayton Scares Tie To F86 Test Times

DAYTON, April 22—(AP)—The Air Force plans tests next week to see if recent high altitude dives by a jet plane speed king can explain a series of "mystery" blasts reported in the Dayton area.

Col. F. K. Paul, chief of the flight test division at Wright-Patterson Air Force base, said last night the new tests are planned "to see if we can prove anything."

"Right now it is all a lot of conjecture but there is a possibility that some of the dives may be linked to the series of explosions," he told newsmen.

He referred to dives at near supersonic speeds by Maj. Richard L. Johnson, holder of the recognized world record of more than 670 miles an hour set in 1948 at Muroc, Calif.

Reports of an explosion or earth tremor that rattled dishes and broke windows near Dayton began pouring in to police, newspapers and radio stations Thursday. Telephone callers timed the disturbance at about 11:30 a. m.

Reports of a second blast about 12:15 p. m. yesterday created more excitement. It mounted when two more occurred about 3:30 p. m.

Johnson heard about the mystery blasts. He recalled they coincided right with the time he was in the air and told superior officers about it. They permitted him to disclose that "those working close to the project feel they have a logical explanation for linking dives with the explosions."

Johnson said he made a test in an F86 North American jet at the noon hour yesterday. He took off at 11:30 a. m. yesterday for a flight ending at 1 p. m. and flew again that day between 3 and 4 p. m. Top speed of the F86 is secret.

No one could account for the blasts reported east and north of Dayton. An Atomic Energy Commission plant at nearby Miamisburg said everything there was normal. So did officers at Wright-Patterson Airbase. Earthquake recording devices at Cincinnati and Cleveland were undisturbed.

Similar jolts puzzled residents of South Bend, Ind., near Niles, Mich., last Sept. 22. Reports of mysterious explosions in that area have been frequent since then.

Paul said Johnson has been making test dives for several weeks. He is stationed at Wright-Patterson base, site of air materiel command headquarters and testing ground for many new aerial weapons.

Candidate Wants Long Term For Highway Chief
HUBBARD, April 22—(AP)—J. Eugene Roberts, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, today advocated a longer highway directors since the department director.

Roberts said in a prepared statement that Ohio has had 18 highway directors since the department was established in 1904. Directors serve at the pleasure of the governor.

"The vast amount of money paid by Ohio motorists deserves a long-range program and I advocate a longer term of appointment," he continued.

No Reparations For U. S. Plane, Reds Say

LONDON, April 22—(AP)—Russia has rejected a U. S. demand for compensation for the loss of an American plane fired at by Soviet fighter planes in the Baltic area April 8.

The U.S.S.R. also insisted the plane was a B-29 bomber, not an unarmed privateer, and that it fired at the fighters first.

In a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk at Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky declared the plane was trying to "photograph Soviet defense installations."

The note said the Soviet government cannot accept for examination the U.S. demands for compensation and a guarantee against any recurrence of the incident.

It asserted these demands "are clearly absurd and without any foundation whatever."

Maragon Attorneys To Claim No Proof

WASHINGTON, April 22—(INS)—John Maragon's attorneys disclosed today that they will claim Monday the government has failed to prove its perjury case against their client.

Chief Defense Counsel Irvin Goldstein said he will ask a "judgment of acquittal" by U. S. District Judge Jennings Bailey just as soon as the prosecution completes its case.

Mr. Goldstein said the main basis of his motion will be the charge that the government has failed to back up with evidence its claims that Maragon lied to Senate "five percent" investigators last summer.
